WORDS FOR THE SONGS

Before a chosen song starts to play, the first line of verse is displayed at the bottom of the screen. As the song plays, each line of verse is displayed a beat or two before the previous line's music is finished, to make it easy to sing along.

The words are displayed on your TV or monitor in easy-to-read light gray (almost white) on dark gray (almost black). They are the same size and design as Commodore's standard characters. Both upper and lower case letters are used, because tests show that they are easier to read than all upper case.

A printed copy of the verses for all songs is included with the diskette, for your convenience.

SING ALONG!

The Christmas Carols are made to be sung along with. To make it easy, we include one or two extra notes and a pause at the beginning of each song, to give you the key and pitch. The pitch is the note you'll start on. When there are two notes before the pause, the pitch is the second note.

HARDWARE REQUIREMENTS

The Christmas Carols require a Commodore 64 computer, a color or black and white TV or monitor, and a 1541 or compatible disk drive.

Disk drives like Commodore's model 4040 and some non-Commodore compatibles will work, but some interfaces will not. The Carols use almost all of the computer's memory, so interfaces which use some of the 64's memory will not work. For example, the BusCard II from Batteries Included works fine with our 4040 drive, but Richvale's C64-Link does not.

COPYRIGHT

The "Christmas Carols" programs and files, and all advertising materials and documentation except the song lyrics are Copyright 1984, John Henry Software. None of these may be copied in any way, for any reason.

QUESTIONS WE'VE BEEN ASKED

1) How fast is your delivery?

Our policy is to mail your software to you the day after we receive the order. We have met this goal for 95% of the public domain software orders we received in the last year.

2) Why do you charge only $15.95?

Christmas Carols is a well designed, well tested, professionally produced program. We are confident that you will like it very much, and will tell others about it. We expect to sell a lot of the Christmas Carols because of their high quality, and when we do, the profits will be there.

Ironically, low-quality programs often are priced at $30 to $50 because the distributors know they won't sell well, and they have to make a profit quickly, before people learn the truth.

Some companies sell programs for high prices because "everybody else does". We feel that what we charge has nothing to do with what others charge. We hope other quality software distributors follow our lead and start charging reasonable prices for their entertainment programs.

3) May I copy the Christmas Carols disk for backup or for friends?

No. We are not offering this right with the Carols. Instead, we offer a liberal warranty and fast service when you have a problem. Please do not jeopardize the low price of future John Henry software by giving copies to your friends.

4) Do you have public domain software available?

Yes, we also distribute public domain programs for the VIC 20 and Commodore 64, on disk or tape. We've tested and documented each program, and organized them into groups which sell for $7.95 each, including postage. If you do not have our free public domain reference book, drop us a postcard requesting one.
